

Midnight-to-Dawn Parley Ends Strike at Bethlehem Steel

Nearly 2,000 Return To Work at Allis Plant,
Company Reports

By The Associated Press
Settlement of a four-day strike at the Bethlehem steel mill, Bethlehem, Pa., was announced today at the end of a midnight-to-dawn conference between the management and the striking C. I. O. Steel Workers Organizing Committee.

Terms of settlement were agreed to by the workers at later meeting. John V. Riffe, assistant director of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, said it was "the first agreement ever obtained with Bethlehem steel."

Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company reopened its plant at Milwaukee, closed since January 22 by a C. I. O. strike, and reported that 1,962 workers of a normal shift of 6,000 were on the job.

Max W. Babb, company president, telegraphed federal officials, who had formally requested immediate resumption of work on $45,000,000 of defense orders, that the employees came in "despite the union leaders' defiance of the government's call," and through massed pickets.

C. I. O. leaders warned that any union members returning to work before a vote on ending the strike—a union meeting is set for tomorrow—would lose their jobs.

Gary Campaign Ends
The C. I. O. Steel Workers Organizing Committee relaxed a dues-picketing campaign at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's plant at Gary, Ind., permitting workers to enter and leave unmolested.

The United Automobile Workers (C. I. O.) announced an informal settlement has been reached in the 18-day strike at the Midland Steel Products Corp. plant at Detroit.

Leo Lamotte, regional U. A. W. A.-C. I. O. director, said members of the local union would hold a mass meeting Saturday to ratify the agreement reached by negotiators.

The defense mediation board appealed to companies and unions involved in cases pending before it to agree at once to resume production and continue operations while negotiations proceed.

W. H. Davis, vice chairman of the board, said hearings would be held on three of the cases tomorrow and a hearing on the International Harvester Company case Monday.

Negotiators Assigned

Panels of three members each were assigned to handle the cases of the Vanadium Corporation, the Cornell-Dubilier (Condenser Corporation) and the Universal-Cyclops Steel company. A five-member panel headed by Chairman C. A. Dykstra will consider the Harvester case.

Riffe announced the details of the agreement between his union and the Bethlehem Steel Company for the parent plant.

An hour later, however, Morris Mallinger, an official of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee reported that S. W. O. C. members had started a walkout at the

Deportation Looms for German Author

Washington, March 28—(AP)—The justice department said today that Richard Julius Herman Krebs, who wrote the best seller "Out of the Night" under the name of Jan Valtin, had been arrested in New York to face deportation proceedings.

Krebs, arrested in the immigration offices in New York, is being held at Ellis Island under $5,000 bail.

Krebs is a German citizen who described his experiences as a Communist agitator both in Germany and among sailors in this country in his lengthy autobiographical work which became a best seller.

On Air Wednesday

Only last Wednesday night Krebs, or Valtin, introduced on the radio from "An Unnamed Spot in America," told of his experiences at the hands of the German Gestapo and said "there is hardly anyone in Germany now who does not have some horrible memory."

Federal law provides for deportation of an unwanted alien to his native country, which in this case would be Germany. In some instances, aliens facing deportation are permitted to leave voluntarily but officials said it appeared that this course would not be open to Krebs because of his having a criminal record.

The department said in a statement that Krebs admitted entering the United States illegally on March 6, 1935, by jumping the ship Ary Lensen at Norfolk, Va., and that he served a three-year sentence from 1926 to 1929 in California's San Quentin prison for assault.

Lowell Park Road Continues Problem for Lee Co. Board

The condition of the Lowell park road is puzzling to the members of the road and bridge committee of the Lee county board of supervisors, and promises to be the first problem to confront the new committee to be named at the organization meeting next month. In many places the road is in a bad state of repair as the frost leaves the ground.

The committee completed a survey of the road a few days ago and report conditions much worse than at that time. One member of the committee was quoted as stating that any attempt to repair this much-travelled road would be "throwing good money after bad," and favored the building of a concrete highway from state route 26 north to the Seven Mile branch bridge near the Lee-Ogle county line.

Repairs Are Costly
It was stated today that the county has expended the sum of $300 each year for the past three years for surface maintenance alone, not including sums expended for necessary repairs after the frost leaves the ground each spring and the road becomes almost impassable in many spots.

When the county board of supervisors originally outlined a program

Barkley Sees Defeat for War Referendum

Washington, March 28—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky today predicted defeat of a proposal that the country hold an "advisory" election before Congress vote to send troops abroad.

The proposal—submitted yesterday by Senators Nye (R.-N.D.), Wheeler (D.-Mont.), LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.), Clark (D.-Idaho) and Shipstead (R.-Minn.)—provides that an election on the question of sending troops abroad would demonstrate "the will of the people" before Congress voted on the question. The election would not be binding on Congress, however.

Shovel Hits Unexploded
Cartridge; Man Killed
Pinckneyville, Ill., March 28—(AP)—A giant shovel at the Fidelity strip mine of the United Electric Coal Company struck an unexploded dynamite cartridge last night, resulting in a blast that showered rocks on two shovel workers, fatally injuring one of them.

Oscar Hemmer of DuQuoin, 45, died in a DuQuoin hospital early today of head injuries inflicted by the flying rock, and Sherman Wilkerson of Pinckneyville, 48, was in a hospital here with minor injuries.

Seven men were killed in an explosion at the liquid oxygen plant of the same mine February 14.

3,200 State-Owned Automobiles to be Required to Give Increased Service

Springfield, Ill., March 28—(AP)—When the state's 3,200 automobiles and trucks wear out they will be reconditioned instead of being traded in on new vehicles under a plan that Governor Green hopes will result in "large annual savings."

The governor told a press conference late yesterday that Superintendent of Transportation Fred F. Emich had been made a virtual dictator over state-owned automobiles with instructions to cut down on purchases of new machines and supplies.

Instead of giving authority over automobile operation to various state departments, Emich will retain control of all automobiles under a "pooling system."

In addition, all automobiles driven over 75,000 miles will be reconditioned instead of being traded in on new cars. The first reconditioning unit has been established in the state garage at Springfield where 39 mechanics are overhauling five machines a day. Similar reconditioning units will be established in Chicago and East St. Louis.

Emich previously had reported that cars were being needlessly used for private matters by state employees and that many automobiles were traded in on new machines before they were worn out.

State employees also will no longer be permitted to buy oil and gas at service stations along the highways. Emich is requiring all state-owned vehicles to be serviced at any of the 16 state garages in order to cut gasoline and oil expenses.

Big Cut in Relief Appropriations in State is Probable

Gov. Green Expected to Propose Deep Slashes
in State's Budget

Springfield, Ill., March 28—(AP)—State administration leaders predicted today that Governor Green soon will propose to the legislature a deep cut in state relief appropriations—possibly a slash of $35,000,000 below the current biennial appropriation of $94,000,000.

At the same time, Governor Green disclosed the administration has under consideration legislation having to do with regulation of the state's oil industry. He gave no details in a press conference but official sources said both appropriation and taxation of the industry have been undergoing study by aides of the governor.

Green told reporters there have been "no decisions" as to the form of oil legislation but legislative sources said two types of production taxes were being weighed.

One would place a flat tax of about three cents a barrel on all oil produced, while the alternative would be a percentage tax, possibly of three per cent on marketed oil to conform with the sales tax.

Finance Director George B. McKibbin predicted that when Green sends his 1941-43 biennial budget to the legislature, probably within three weeks, the largest single reduction would be in the relief fund.

While the governor and McKibbin both declined to discuss specific budget figures, official sources said they would not be surprised to see a relief cut of $35,000,000, which would make the next biennial fund $59,000,000.

This would set up approximately $2,457,000 month for direct aid to unemployed compared with the current outlay of $3,800,000 monthly.

Legislation to regulate the drilling of oil wells in coal mining districts also is being considered by the governor.

Green said representatives of coal mine operators and miners had reported that drilling of oil wells in coal formations "creates pockets of gas and presents a dangerous situation."

The operators and miners, he said, want some legislation requiring proper safeguards in oil well drilling to prevent the escape of gas.

Record-Breaking Farm Bill Ready

Washington, March 28—(AP)—A record-breaking farm bill, carrying more than $1,340,000,000, won speedy approval today from the senate appropriations committee.

Accepting scores of increases previously approved by a subcommittee, including $450,000,000 for parity payments to farmers complying with administration programs, the full committee recommended passage as a part of the effort by a powerful group of senators demanding that farmers share more largely in the prosperity promised by the defense program.

Majority Leader Barkley (D.-Ky.) said the senate would act on the farm bill Monday. It then must go back to the house which voted $890,000,000 for agriculture activities.

Bulk of the big bill—$950,000,000—would go to farmers in the form of benefit payments for complying with the administration's agricultural programs.

Although the annual farm bill usually provides funds for the new fiscal year beginning July 1, the senate group voted to use $150,000,000 of the additional funds for "parity payments" on crops planted and harvested this year.

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—Four gunmen menaced a hundred employees, 75 of them women, at the R. R. Donnelley & Sons Printing Company today and fled with a cash box containing $4,000.

Company officials said the robbers might have been after the payroll amounting to several times the loot but which had not been delivered.

The gunmen wore masks made of silk stockings and handkerchiefs and escaped in an automobile left at the curb. The license of the car was issued in Jacksonville, Ill.

February Second Worst on Record in Traffic Deaths

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—The National Safety Council reported today that last month was the second most fatal February on record, with 2,560 persons dead as the result of traffic accidents in the United States.

The death toll was 22 per cent greater than in February, 1940, and it came within 30 of the all-time high recorded in February, 1937.

These late figures brought traffic deaths for the first two months of 1941 up to 5,370, a 16 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Council statisticians found that cities continued to have fewer fatal accidents than rural districts.

"Judging from these reports and the state-wide changes shown, rural deaths probably increased 40 per cent during February, and for the first two months combined were about one-third higher than in 1940," the council said.

"Almost 200 cities still have perfect records for 1941."

Among leaders listed by the council for the two-month period: (The figures represent the population rate, which is the number of motor vehicle deaths annually per 100,000 population. In computing this rate it is assumed that fatalities will continue to occur during the remainder of the year at the same monthly average as they have so far.)

To Dixon Troops

Apparently an appeal from "A Lonesome Buck Private of Co. A" that patriotic citizens or organizations of Dixon subscribe for The Telegraph to be sent to Dixon's soldiers in Camp Forrest, is not to be futile. Anna Kellogg Leal, No. 81, daughters of Union Veterans, has ordered a year's subscription sent to the camp, and The Telegraph today placed the company on its list for two such subscriptions, free. At least a dozen copies of the paper will be necessary to properly supply the soldiers.

Terse News

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—Joseph Lotta, 26, and his brother, Leo, 24, arrested March 23 after the burglary of a lunch room, were indicted on burglary charges today.

The brothers resided at 833 Iroquois street, Freeport, Ill. Police said that a warrant from Stephenson county, charging rape of a 15-year-old girl, was lodged against Leo Lotta.

Records of the state's attorney's office showed that police had found Leo Lotta, carrying a pistol, on the roof of the lunch room, beside a shattered skylight, and that a search subsequently turned up Joseph on the rear porch of another building.

Valuations for '41 Assessments Same as for Last Year

No changes will take place in the 1941 assessment of Lee county and personal property during 1941, it was voted at the annual meeting of Lee county assessors held today in the County court room. Forty per cent of the fair cash value was decided upon as the standard assessment value on all personal property.

County Treasurer Ward Miller urged the assessors to make a special effort to collect dog taxes in every township, emphasizing the fact that farmers who suffered losses of stock and poultry are entitled to compensation for losses from this fund. Some of the assessors stated that in the towns there were many dogs but no owners, while in the country, there was no opposition to the payment of dog taxes.

Grain Valuations

There were no changes in the valuations of grains on farms, the schedule used last year being agreed upon for 1941 as follows: Wheat, 40 cents per bushel; rye, 20c; corn 20c; oats, 15c; barley, 20c; soy beans, 40c; clover seed, $5 per bushel; timothy seed, $1 and hay, $2 per ton.

Polar Expedition Starting for Home

Washington, March 28—(AP)—Leaving behind them costly stores of equipment buried indefinitely in the polar regions, the men of the United States Antarctic expedition voyaged homeward today after almost two years at the bottom of the world.

Officials in radio communication with the historic cutter Bear disclosed that the 26 men evacuated by plane earlier this week from the expedition's ice-bound east base left behind everything they could not bring out on their backs or in their pockets.

Personal effects, food sufficient for months, books and scientific equipment were included. All the supplies, however, are expected to be safe until the next expedition arrives—possibly years hence. Provisions are non-existent in the Antarctic.

Also abandoned were the expedition's 27-ton "snow cruiser" buildings, cooking equipment, power tools and other bulky items; but from the outset there was no intention of bringing these back.

Besides the 26 men on the Bear, enroute to Punta Arenas, Chile, there are 33 men from the west base homeward bound aboard the interior department survey ship North Star. The two groups were separated by some 1,200 miles during their Antarctic stay.

Unstable Air Mass Brings Cold Today

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—Slightly colder weather visited the Great Plains and the upper Mississippi valley today as a cold and unstable air mass followed a disturbance that moved from Minnesota southeastward to northeastern Indiana.

The air mass brought light snow to much of the area. Light to locally moderate snow fell in northeastern Illinois and northwestern Indiana.

Rain drenched the south and middle Atlantic states as an intense weather disturbance centered near Cape Hatteras, N. C., where the fall measured 2.17 inches.

Policing 18,000-Acre Camp Forrest No Minor Detail in Day-to-Day Life

Camp Forrest, Tenn., March 28—(AP)—The policing of an area such as this 18,000-acre, heavily-populated training camp is no minor item in the multitudinous detail of day-to-day army life.

But it is one that has received much attention from the KMP command with the result that the cantonment is as thoroughly policed as any area of its size in Tennessee.

Chief activity of this nature is left to two military police companies, one of which is a unit of the Illinois 33rd division under the command of a Chicago detective, Capt. James H. Ryan.

Capt. Ryan's outfit is charged primarily with patrolling camp streets and directing traffic. The other company provides M. P.'s for nearby towns and guards for the eight camp entrances.

Each regiment also provides within its area a day and night guard detail of about 10 beats, with the job rotated among all companies.

Major Ferris U. Foster, a World war veteran, as Provost Marshal, coordinates these activities as well as acting as a liaison between civilian and military authorities.

For the confinement of soldiers who commit major offenses are three main guard houses and a main prison stockade.

New Yugoslavian Regime Militant in Defying Axis

The War Today!

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

This Yugoslav revolt against axis domination is so big and so fast on its feet that it's difficult to rope it long enough to get a good look at it, but there can be no doubt that it represents one of the crucial moments of the war.

Much clarification came this morning from the reported reply of young King Peter and his government to the Nazi demand for an explanation. A high diplomatic source in Belgrade said the answer was that Yugoslavia wouldn't ratify the pact of adherence to the axis—signed by the government which was overthrown—but was returning to "full and absolute neutrality."

This message—born of an all-night session of the boy ruler and his cabinet—was emphasized indirectly but forcefully by the action of the Belgrade government in completing the mobilization of a million and a quarter of the world's toughest fighting men, and rushing them to battle stations.

Now if that is in truth the reply of Peter and his counselors to Hitler, it is no wishy-washy affair but a historic declaration of rights. It means this:

Yugoslavia declines to take dictation from Germany. She proposes to pursue her long-standing policy of peace towards her neighbors. So determined is she in this attitude that she is prepared to fight to maintain her right to her position.

That puts the baby right back on Herr Hitler's doorstep. The next move is up to him, and if he says he wants to fight, why then it will be a fight.

The Nazi chief's decision under these circumstances isn't an easy one. If he uses force he will open up a big new war front—the very thing he has been trying to avoid. He also will ipso facto throw Yugoslavia into the Anglo-Greek camp, and perhaps even draw Turkey into the conflict.

On the whole it is a grand chance for somebody to make a colossal blunder. Small wonder then that the Fuehrer should be proceeding cautiously, although report has it that German troops in Bulgaria are being rushed toward the Yugoslav border.

The Nazis protested to Belgrade concerning the alleged attacks on German citizens there yesterday, but spokesmen remained reticent with the press. The general attitude of officialdom in Berlin, however, was one of dissatisfaction with the Yugoslav position.

Meantime Yugoslavia has received offers of full aid from the United States and Britain if she fights against aggression. Her position is far less unhappy than it was before the revolt. Every moment she gleans now free of combat is a golden one, for it gives her a chance to get her fighting machine into position for eventualities.

This crisis may be the beginning of a great turn in the complexion of the war. Her Hitler will be lucky if it benefits him. As a matter of fact, it may already have caused a grave upset in his reported plans for persuading Japan to enter actively the war against Britain by attacking the great naval base of Singapore.

Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuo is in Berlin now for the purpose of sizing up the situation so that his government may decide.

Jackson Dinner in Capital Postponed

Washington, March 28—(AP)—Democratic leaders heaved a sigh of relief today over the "postponement" of tomorrow night's $100-a-plate Jackson Day dinner here because of President Roosevelt's inability to attend in person.

They had a bad few hours, however, fearful that the president's absence would turn the main event in the nationwide series of party rallies into a flop.

When the local dinner was arranged, it was believed that Roosevelt would attend as usual, so some thousand persons accepted "invitations" with that expectation. As soon a word arrived yesterday that the president would not be back, however, the normally brisk last-minute acceptances fell off sharply, and officials with tickets started turning them over to minor employees.

The Democratic national committee stepped in late in the day with the announcement that the dinner here would be postponed and held at a later date, rather than disappoint the expectations of those with "invitations."

The other dinners—$50 affairs in New York and $25 in other states—will be held as scheduled, with Roosevelt addressing them by radio from his vacation yacht Potomac in southern waters between 9:30 and 10 p. m. (S.30 and 9 p. m. C. S. T.)

In support of the proposed location, the association's president, Russell F. Harstiek, said today: "Grant used to spend a considerable part of his leisure time in a tavern near there."

Dies Says Strikes May Result from Communist Leadership in Unions

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Texas) of the House committee investigating un-American activities told the House members that the United States might expect strikes in key industries as the "natural fruit of communist leadership in labor unions."

The Texan said there should be no surprise over "the shocking revelation that the strike at the Allis Chalmers plant was called as a result of a fraudulent ballot."

In another of his series of daily "reports" to the House regarding what he called subversive activities, Dies reminded the members that he previously had informed them that Harold Christoffel, president of the striking union at the Allis Chalmers plant, "has a record of communist affiliation."

New Bakery Opens in Dixon; Owners See Fine Future

Latest addition to the Dixon business district is a new, modern bakery owned and operated by Harold Phillips and located at 219 First street, former location of the Kroger grocery.

The business will be known as "Phillips Open View Bake Shop". The bake shop has been open for business since Wednesday but the grand opening is planned for tomorrow. The public is invited to come in and get acquainted with Mr. Phillips and inspect the shop. Free souvenir measuring spoons will be given to every adult making a purchase on Saturday.

Both Mr. Phillips and his wife will be active in directing the business. They came to Dixon from Elgin where Mr. Phillips was manager of a Federal bakery for six years and both have been associated with the bakery business for a number of years. They will make their permanent home in Dixon.

His Assistants

Rose Bevilacqua, popular local young lady, has been engaged as saleslady and Mr. Phillips will have several assistant bakers in the shop.

The shop is planned and equipped in the new and modern style so that the customer may watch the baking processes at all times. Only the latest type of equipment is being used. The display room fixtures were designed by Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and are both attractive and practical.

Mr. Phillips chose to locate in Dixon after a careful survey of several towns in the middle west. He says, "I see a great future for the city of Dixon. After several trips to this town, I was greatly impressed by the industrious attitude of the business men and the friendliness of the people. The more I saw of Dixon the more eager I was to start in business and make my home here."

The Phillips Open View Bake Shop will carry a large assortment of bake goods at popular prices and they specialize in filling individual orders for parties, banquets and occasions that call for fancy pastry work.

Mr. Phillips hopes that the people of Dixon and community will stop in and get acquainted at their earliest convenience.

St. Charles Guards to Have Separate Trials

Geneva, Ill., March 28.—(AP)—

Two guards at the St. Charles School for Boys, charged with murdering an inmate, were granted separate trials here by Circuit Judge Charles B. Page.

The court denied a motion to quash the indictment on the guards' contention that death was due to an undetermined cause and that culpability of the accused had not been established.

May 12 was fixed for the start of the first trial. The defendants, who have been held without bond in the Kane county jail since Feb. 14, were Robert Adams, 32, of Lanark, and William Laird, 27, of Elgin.

Buffet Supper Is Party Courtesy for Bride-to-Be

On Wednesday morning, April 23, Miss May will exchange wedding vows with Daniel Mathews of Kankakee in an 8 o'clock nuptial mass at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Baby carnations trimmed the center of the candlelit serving table. Guests were seated at quarter tables, where centerpieces were lollipop brides and bridesmaids. Place cards were chocolate Easter eggs, with names of the guests inscribed in pink icing.

Hands were dealt for auction bridge, following the supper. Fortunately in the bridge games were Kathryn Herman and Ethel Cline. The group's gift for the honoree was a white chenille bedspread with pastel trim.

Guests numbered Mrs. Ralph Gommernan, Mrs. William Smith, and Katherine Hanley, Audrey Stewart, Ethel Cline, Kathryn Herman, Lorella May, Sylvia Carey, Grace Louise Crawford, Margaret Sproul, Agatha Tosney, and Mr. Mathews' fiancée.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and disapproved of by the tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

"Science Says—"

Ali Baba had a magic word. When he pronounced "Open, Sesame!" the door of the thieves came swinging open, and all the riches within lay before him.

We of the twentieth century have inclined to believe that we, too, had a magic word. "Science says . . ." we mouth, and expect all the riches of health, wealth and happiness to lie before us.

There are people today who trust in science blindly, almost as our forefathers trusted in God. Faith like that, by the way, even in science, is not scientific.

But even science requires a sort of faith at bottom—faith that the truth is discoverable, and that it is worth discovering. That faith has been shaken in these days, as the Rockefeller Foundation admits in its review of its 1940 activities.

Science has placed powerful tools in the hands of men. But of what use are they if they are used merely for man's enslavement? If the German dye industry produced sulfanilamide, most amazing of modern medical discoveries, it also produced mustard gas. If deep principles of physics are used to point a 500-ton telescope at a hitherto unknown star, they are also used to point a 16-inch gun. If means of communication are multiplied, so that men may speak more freely to men and thus multiply truth, the same means can be used to multiply false and destructive propaganda.

But it scarcely follows that we should therefore abandon science, or the scientific methods it teaches. What we need is to realize that mere science is not enough. We need morals, too, so that we may properly use for good the tools science has given us. We need faith, the ultimate faith that lies beneath science, that the truth is discoverable and good. We need to renew faith also that there is in aspect of man apart from the material things in which science deals.

None of these things are contradictory. We need to put science in its place by faith that man's spiritual side is also important. We need moral development, so that the techniques of science may be used for good and not for evil. And we need science itself, and the scientific method, so that man, given brains, may use them to think and to achieve.

Science is swell, and we're all for it. But science is not everything. Is man so great that he can afford to discard anything he can achieve in faith, in morals, or in science?

Surely, the fault is not with any of these, but with the fact that man has not yet perfectly developed them.

Helping the Seventy

Charles F. Taft, active in work to safeguard the welfare of the new army, is backing more stringent measures to stamp out prostitution in the neighborhood of camps, ancient enemy of army health.

Of 100 soldiers, Taft believes, 15 avoid trouble of that sort in any case; 15 will find trouble no matter what is done; but 70 are likely to get into trouble in proportion to the opportunities afforded. Thus for the sake of the 70, Taft is all for cutting down the opportunities. Whether he's right on his percentages, we wouldn't know, but we think we know this: the best way to safeguard the welfare of men in military service is to provide opportunities for healthful, decent recreation outside camp limits.

It is the idle hand for which Satan is reliably reported to find work.

Nurses Needed

The army needs nurses. By June, when the army personnel will have greatly increased, some 4,000 additional reserve nurses will be required for duty in army hospitals. The response, Gen. I. J. Phillipson has told the Red Cross has been rather slow, simply because the need has not been appreciated. There are plenty of opportunities in the army nursing service, in both reserve and active status, for all qualified nurses who wish to serve.

The loyalty of nurses during the World War was one of its brightest pictures. As soon as the need is clearly understood, there is no doubt that it will be filled today, even though the crisis is not as acute or the need as pressing.

Canada Cuts Wheat

To those who remember the World War, nothing could more sharply underline the difference between this war and that, than the announcement that Canada, approaching the second year of today's war, is making a drastic cut in wheat acreage.

Like the United States, Canada has a tremendous wheat carry-over. The war has cut off as many markets as it has created. So, instead of the cry, "Wheat will win the war!" which was heard in 1917, the cry is, "Cut down wheat acreage to reduce surpluses!"

There is a warning there for American farmers—especially those who remember the call to turn under virgin sod for wheat in 1917. The farmer, or anyone else, who tries to gauge today's situation by yesterday's measure, is in for trouble.

Social institutions are no more perfect for all time than was the dinosaur—Mordca Ezelkel, economist.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, March 27.—The series of strikes disrupting the defense program and sabotaging Mr. Roosevelt's course may seem to those on strike to involve issues as important as life itself. To a disinterested bystander, they seem to involve only superficial technicalities.

In an effort to present succinctly the points at issue, in half a dozen of the outstanding conflicts, I consulted the least partisan sources of expert information in the government, and received the following studied advice:

Vanadium—This bottleneck strike, holding up production of a particular kind of steel necessary for machine tools (the very center of defense effort) involves the company's right to hire six non-union guards. The union claims this violates their contract, as it probably does. The company claims the guards are a part of management, not labor.

Universal Cylcops—The employees claim the company pays about $6.50 a ton below its competitors, and want a wage increase.

Bethlehem—The company wants to foster the employees representation plan (company union) ordered disbanded 19 months ago by the National Labor Relations Board. A decision against Bethlehem has been appealed by the management to the courts.

International Harvester—A union in which suspected communist elements are controlling, has demanded recognition of its setup in all plants. The NLRB has certified it as the bargaining union in only two of six plants.

Allis-Chalmers—It was all settled over a month ago but at the last minute, Sidney Hillman, Mr. Roosevelt's co-director of defense, attempted to interpret the agreement that had been reached. His interpretation was not satisfactory to anyone and if he had kept his mouth shut, the strike would be settled today.

Midland Steel—An increase in pay has been demanded for the 25,000 who are working on a piece basis.

You can see from this impartial summary of the contentions that those who are doing Hitler's business in the United States are serious about their complaints. Yet few of their contentions would be accepted as vital by a guiding government source. As a whole the complaints foster the suspicion that the strikes have been contrived by someone who does not have the final interest of labor at heart. Suppose, for an instance, that all the complaints in these half dozen most important strikes were resolved in favor of labor, the victory would not be important, if I were a communist bent on running Mr. Roosevelt's plan I would favor the strikers.

It is unfortunate that we have no central control capable of meeting such a diverse and nationally important development in the defense program. The president has indicated no inclination to take hold. We cannot expect congress to do it without leadership. It seems we are in for an indefinite period of more of the same.

Labor no doubt has the right to strike and protect itself, but the public has a greater right. It has the right of protection and in this case it has the right of a fair allocation of wages and working arrangements. But no one in the government or elsewhere is advocating the cause of the public. The only strong advocacy comes from the parties involved.

It is not a question of how many men are on strike, as Mr. Roosevelt says, but the fact that anyone is on strike at a time when labor's international cause is being so well defended.

William Wesley Shippett was born September 26, 1874, in South Dixon township, the eldest son of William Frederick and Catherine Bower Shippett. He passed away at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital at 7:40 a. m. March 25, at the age of 66 years, five months and 29 days.

He received his education in the elementary school of his community, and at the Dixon business college. In early youth he united with the Union church at Eldena, where he faithfully served as Sunday school superintendent, trustee and treasurer for many years. In 1920 he transferred his membership by letter to the First Methodist Episcopal church at Dixon. He was a faithful attendant as long as health permitted.

On January 18, 1905, he was united in marriage to Mattie Ellen Hanne of South Dixon. They established their home at the old Shippett homestead and Mr. Shippett spent his entire life on the farm where he was born. Seven children were born to this union.

Mr. Shippett served his community in many capacities. Among them he served a member of the board of education, trustee of the cemetery association, and supervisor of South Dixon township. He was known for his good judgment, his unflinching kindness, and his devotion to the highest standards of honesty.

Surviving are his widow; a daughter, Miss Marie E. at home; and five sons, Elvin E. of Pocahontas, Idaho; Robert J. of Lyle, W. Va.; Wm. W. Jr., of South Dixon; and Arthur H. of the medical detachment of the 129th infantry, at Camp Forrest, Tennessee. Eight grandchildren and one brother, Henry F. Shippett of South Dixon, also survive. One son, Frank Winfield, preceded him in death on September 13, 1939.

Funeral services were held at the family home Thursday, March 27, 1941 at 1:15 and at the Methodist church at 2:00 p. m. Dr. Floyd Blewfield officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. R. W. Ford of the Christian church. Interment was made at Oakwood.

FLOYD E. HARPER

(Telegraph Special Service)

Paw Paw, Mar. 28.—Suddenly stricken with a heart attack at 1 P. M., March 19, 1941, Floyd E.

Harper, civic leader, attorney and farmer, died a few minutes later at his farm home, near Mechanicsburg, Ill. He was 62 years old. Except for a cold which kept him in bed one day, two weeks ago, Mr. Harper had not been ill.

Operating a farm of more than 400 acres, Mr. Harper, together with Mrs. Harper, had spent most of the morning outdoors. Shortly after the noon hour they returned to the house for lunch. During the meal Mr. Harper slumped in his chair. Mrs. Harper summoned a physician who pronounced him dead.

Mr. Harper was born March 9, 1879 at Ross Grove, Ill. just a few miles east of Paw Paw. As a young man he attended the University of Chicago, receiving his literary degree there in 1903 and his law degree two years later.

Interested in athletics while a student, Mr. Harper, who was a close friend of Coach Alonzo Stagg, became the first string catcher for the university's baseball team, from 1900 to 1903.

After leaving college, Mr. Harper went to Kansas to hang up his law shingle. He became active in Republican politics and was elected judge of the city court at Leavenworth, Kan. in 1912 and re-elected to the position in 1914. From 1916 to 1920 he served as state's attorney at Leavenworth.

Later he went to New York, where he became counsel for a large company. In 1927 Mr. Harper became associated with the Midwest Utility Corp. with headquarters in Chicago.

In 1932 Mr. Harper came to Springfield to enter the legal department of the Central Illinois Public Service Co. and was assigned to the management of the company's safety division. Five years later he was made manager of the company's tax department which position he held until June 1, 1940, when he retired to take over personal operation of a farm of more than 400 acres two miles south of Mechanicsburg, which he had previously purchased. Mr. Harper took great pride in his farm, specializing in the raising of hogs and cattle.

He was a brother of Jesse C. Harper, former coach of football, at Notre Dame university, and athletic director. The brother designated the immortal Knute Rockne as his successor at Notre Dame. Two years ago while enroute to Notre Dame to attend a reunion of many Notre Dame "greats," Jesse Harper stopped off in Springfield.

"I want to visit Floyd's farm," he said. "Maybe I can give him a little advice," he added chuckling. "You know, I am the operator of a 20,000 acre cattle ranch with 1,800 head of cattle in Clark county, Kansas."

During his residence in Springfield, Mr. Harper was active in civic affairs, holding membership

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Anthony tells me more about himself, how his parents died when he was still in school, how his father's friend educated him. Ben almost admits her real identity, but doesn't fear the knowledge might kill Anthony's love for her. She does tell him about Grandfather Huntington, mentioning no names. A policeman finally ousts them from the park.

HE LOVES ME!

CHAPTER XVI

IN the morning, Beatrice regarded her black stock dress with dissatisfaction, before she put it on.

"I want to look beautiful for Anthony," she thought. "I want a dress like some of those at home . . ."

All those dresses, hanging in the closets in the apartment on Park Avenue, were as far away as if they were on some other continent. The jewelry in the antique silver box, the rows of slippers and hats, were useless now.

"All I've got is this. Yet Anthony fell in love with me. He didn't fall in love with my clothes, or my haircomb, or my car. I have nothing. Nothing at all. He fell in love with me."

"What time did you get in last night?" Toby demanded, from the kitchen where she was pouring coffee. "Terry stayed until practically dawn and still you didn't come . . ." She yawned. "Another day, as they say in the army, another day, another dollar. A million days, a million dollars. Oh, Vera, what in thunder were you and Terry fighting about? You kept me awake!"

"The same old thing," Vera shrugged. She looked more beautiful than ever, this morning. Her brown eyes had such thick, silky lashes, and her five-foot-nine inches of lovely curves in the navy blue crepe illustrated afresh why she was constantly phoned about modeling jobs which she never took. "If I married Terry, I'd live on 16-millimeter film, served up with burnt-out flash bulbs."

"You're such a far-seeing wench," said Toby. "Why do you pick up these wet snacks and then make them miserable because you can't marry them?" Astonishingly, Vera's red lips twisted, and her eyes filled with tears. "You know why?" she cried harshly. "Lend me a dime for carfare and shut up!"

AFTER she was gone, Beatrice looked at Toby, bewildered. "Vera," Toby explained slowly, "is in love with Jake Simon. He's half her size, and has a shrewish little wife."

"Jake Simon—" Beatrice said.

"I've heard that name somewhere before, haven't I?"

"He's her boss. Every season his firm almost goes under, and every season Vera sticks it out, getting paid now and then. That's why she won't work anywhere else, don't you see? She could make thousands if she'd only take the fashion and posing jobs that come her way! But . . ."

Toby washed the coffee cups viciously. "Dear old Huntington keeps Jake Simon so broke he can't buy his wife off with alimony. They keep cutting prices, threatening to buy somewhere else, and that would ruin him. A lot of the better dresses upstairs are his."

"Oh, it's a mess! Vera's loyal, and Jake's really a swell guy, if weird looking. Anyway, that's just one of the things that makes me hate Huntington! What that store does to people's lives!"

Beatrice averted her face, carefully. "I didn't know Huntington's was such an ogre. What else does the store do?"

"It would take me a week. Get, for instance, No pension. And all those hardworking sales in the office, who do Bruce Sheldrake's job for him at about one-twelfth the salary. And manufacturers like Jake, pushed to the wall because Huntington's pares prices to the bone."

"Maybe that's the management," Beatrice suggested slowly. "Perhaps the people who own Huntington's don't know about—" "You mean the Duchesse?" Toby inquired shortly. "Huh! That dame's so busy keeping an Italian prince, or whatever he is, she hasn't time to find out about all the girls her own age and just as good as she is, too, who live on nothing and work like slaves so she can run around to Palm Springs and Hawaii and South America. Did you see that in the paper? She went to South America."

Beatrice's throat closed up. "We'll be late."

AS she hung up her things in her locker, she longed for and dreaded the moment when she would see Anthony. Her face burned, remembering their kiss. Would it be the same, when she saw him again?

She thought, too, of what Toby had said. Soon now she'd have to end this masquerade. She'd have to do something about improving the management of the store.

But then she wondered what it would do to Anthony, finding out who she was. Would he hate her for deceiving him? Once he had asked her, "Are you trying to make a fool of me?" Please, please, God, don't let Anthony take the attitude that I've been amusing myself at his expense!

She knew, too, that Anthony wasn't the kind of man who would enjoy marrying a girl with millions. "If he had met me somewhere as Beatrice Davenport, he'd never have given me a second thought. He's so independent. He's not like Clarence."

Miss Dane lined the salesgirls up beside the wrapping desk, first thing that morning.

"I want an improvement around here in the care of the stock!" she announced. "We've kept two stock girls busy, just because the salesgirls haven't made it their business to pick up dresses, to bring them back out of the fitting rooms, to pin back belts and make sure about clips and buttons. This can't go on! The office has withdrawn one stock girl this morning and we'll have to manage by ourselves. I've seen girls standing in front of cases talking when they might have been taking care of their stock."

Her eyes singled out Beatrice. "Any girl who can't do the routine work as well as make sales is not worth her salary. Remember! That will be all."

BUDGET FASHIONS was very busy, that morning. Beatrice ran in and out of the fitting rooms, placating a customer in the first booth and another in the sixth. She peered through the curtains as one customer turned for inspection in a sport dress, murmured, "That's good on you," and fled to see how the woman in velvet was coming on. Instead of taking only two or three possible dresses into the fitting rooms with each customer, she took six or seven, so the woman could splurge in trying on and be so busy she wouldn't notice the salesgirl's absence.

Other girls got the same idea. The result was that by afternoon the fitting rooms were crowded with discarded dresses, and the work of arranging the stock was even heavier than before.

"The nerve, firing a stock girl!" Toby muttered, as she passed Beatrice in the narrow aisle behind the curtains.

Miss Ryan, a stack of dresses over her arm, bumped into them. "Oh, sorry," she leaned for a moment against the partition, her hands over her eyes. "I'm so tired I just can't keep on stooping and hanging without getting dizzy."

A moment later, the dresses slipped from Miss Ryan's arm into a heap on the floor, and the girl pitched forward.

"Beel! She's fainted!"

EVER stop to figure why Nature gave you both a nose and a mouth to breathe through?

Your nose, barring colds, does all right for ordinary purposes.

But go up against some heavy exercise—and you can open up your mouth as well and increase the intake of oxygen.

Your 1941 Buick with Compound Carburetion* works something like that.

Its "nose," which is the forward one of your two throat-size carburetors, does a grand job of supplying "breath" for your engine on normal jobs.

But when the time comes that your engine has to dig in for a tough pull or a burst of power, then your extra foot-pressure on the gas treadle opens up the "mouth" and your engine "breathes" through two carburetors.

Simple, isn't it? Yet look what happens:

Your engine always consumes gas according to the need.

By simply taking it easy when easy does it and breathing deep when the work piles up, your power plant gets as much as 10% to 15% more mileage from the same gasoline.

That, in these days, is nothing to be sneezed at.

So why don't you get the whole story from your Buick dealer?

ROCHELLE EDITION

Notes on a banquet cloth: Coach Harry Stuhldreher of the University of Wisconsin and Fred Gardner, Big Ten official, who have met several times on the bombastic field of football, were "caught" in post season relaxation sitting side by side and singing "Home on the Range" and "Smiles" at the Rochelle banquet last night. Coach Bill Helms was presented a trophy of esteem from the senior boys of the football team... the award came as a surprise to the Hub mentor and there was a gulp-gulp in his voice as he accepted the handsome token... Chet Slothower, young Rochelle camera fan and nephew of the Dixon mayor, took pictures last night. Bill Wottrick of the Rochelle Leader extended southern hospitality and introduced us to several of the numbers presented by a vocal quartet composed of high school boys... Devin Harris, Kenner and Kovler with Miss Cecco at the piano... they are really good! Coach Helms says, "We take 'em all on in track" and his schedule includes Dixon, Belvidere and DeKalb of the North Central conference... L. S. Argall, president of the Rochelle country club, is scouting around for a pro this season... the draft got last year's... John Roe made the presentation of the trophy to Helms... Stanley Larson, chosen captain at the end of the year on the reserve basketball team was given a special award... the same went to Captain-Elect David Fell of the football reserves... Jack Vierke has served as football and basketball manager for two years and they tell us he is plenty good... Valere Degryve had the honor of being chosen football and basketball captain this year... Joe Roe received a special trophy for the greatest number of free throws made this season... special cups were awarded to Phil May, Jr., for football achievements and to Ronnie Haas for basketball... Stuhldreher described Fred Gardner's job as an official as a hazardous one and added, "I'd have none of it." The Badger coach, illustrating how oldsters often learn from the younger men, cited the famous quip of Don Miller of Dixon and added, "Now, look, he's got me going!"

TOURING BOWLERS

A Dixon bowling quintet composed of Harold Schertner, Forrest Whippman, Harold Dockery, Carl Becker and George Bishop will go to Rockford tomorrow night to meet the Spott Tavern team in a match at the Central Recreation.

TO RIFLE LEAGUE BANQUET

Dixon riflemen will attend the annual Rock River Valley league's banquet to be held tonight in Rockford at the Viking Temple. Billy Repaid, radio news commentator, will be the principal speaker and officers for the 1941-42 season will be elected. Those from here who are attending include: Ken Allen, Wallace Hicks, Sr., Dwight Chapman, Dick Lyons, Roy Wagner, Clarence Hill, Paul Barnhizer, Fred Michaels, John Myers, Wesley Rutt, Arnold LaCour and Paul Loosli.

PAW PAW BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Paw Paw's high school baseball team has seven games on the spring schedule starting with Earlville at home on April 21 and following with Shabbona, Hinckley, Earlville again, Shabbona again, Serena and Waterman.

OTTAWA WOULD BE LARGEST

Ottawa, if admitted into the North Central conference, would have the largest student body of any school with an enrollment of 1,035. Enrollments at the other schools, according to first semester figures, are: Dixon 760, DeKalb 700, Sterling Township 616, Belvidere 523, Princeton 365 and Mendota 335.

"HAVING FINE TIME"

A Dixon friend has received a post card from Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosecrans who, with Mrs. Rosecrans, is enjoying a visit in Florida. "Ed" writes that he saw the Detroit and Brooklyn game last Friday and Detroit and Washington at Lakeland and Newark vs. Buffalo and adds, "Wish I had my summer clothes."

THE HOW COME DEPARTMENT

The morning after the close of the Commercial Bowling league has puzzled. Explain, if you can, why Jim O'Malley rolled a 187 in his second game and then cooled to count 99 in his third? Why isn't Sparky Campbell consistent—first he gets a low series and then he bounds into the 500 class as he did last night? Where is the anchor man of The Telegraph these days with his pace-setting series—did Ed Uebel take over? He did! Bud Kirk, Everett Kestel and Cy Winebrenner were all victims of the mid-game slumping last night. What happened? Where was the famous "nothing ball" that George Missman slithers down the alley last night? Why wasn't he up to par? All these things and more make us feel we should have stayed in town last night just so we could be "in the know" today.

DeKalb, Sterling Students Bowl Here Yesterday

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

Miami Beach, Fla.—Manager Bucky Harris isn't looking around any longer for a fourth starting pitcher for the Washington Senators. Steve Sundra, purchased yesterday from the New York Yankees, is his man.

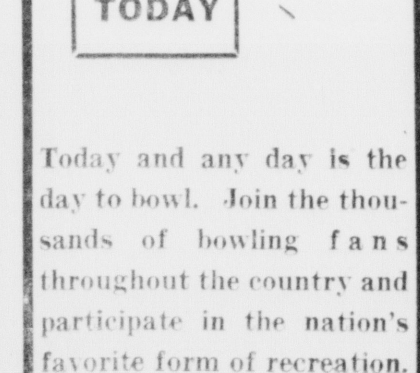

Havana—Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds figures there is a way to pitch to Johnny Mize of the Cardinals—only you can't depend on it. "The proper way to handle him," explains Bucky, "is on the outside. But you've got to pitch differently, occasionally, or he'll get to know what to expect."

Fort Myers, Fla.—Before the Cleveland Indians broke camp today, Manager Roger Peckinpaugh decided he would give Pitcher Jim Bagby a chance to start in his town of Atlanta, Ga., tomorrow. Bob Feller will face the cracklers Sunday.

San Antonio, Tex.—Manager Casey Stengel of the Boston Bees explains Babe Adahlgren's home run hitting simply: "Once a Yankee, always a Yankee."

San Fernando, Calif.—The Pittsburgh Pirates' dismal record of four victories in 10 exhibitions against major league foes is causing Manager Frank Frisch alarm over his pitching staff.

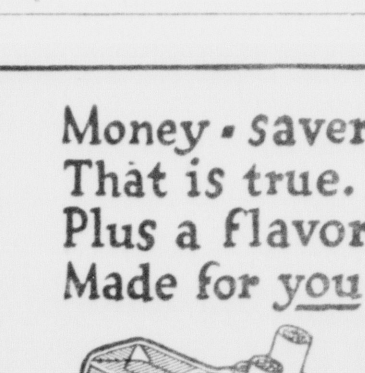

Miami Beach, Fla.—Manager Dos Prothro is looking for some way, anyway at all, to bring in runs for his hapless Phillies. The club left 13 runners languishing on the bases against Newark yesterday.

COMMERCIAL LOOP BOWLERS WIND UP SEASON LAST EVE

Round-Up Strengthens Grasp on Crown Won Over a Week Ago

A newspaper can't stand by and permit the passing parade go unnoticed even if their isn't much drum beating. That's what the Dixon Telegraph keepers thought about the Commercial bowling league standings which were given a final tabulation last night. The Round-Up had already won the championship, so there wasn't much fire in that camp, but it remained for the journalists to better their standing from fourth place. And they did (a little) by tying with the Candy Box for third after last night. Cahill's Electrics bounced from sixth to fifth place and all the other teams fell right into line where the parade left off last week.

In the final records of the new season John Shultz of the Telegraph won high individual game honors with 266 which he chalked up only last week. In second place was Brabazon of the Round-Up champions who had a 246 for his highest game this season. High series honors went to George Bishop of the Reynolds wire team when he scored 625.

High Team Honors
Sparky's Fenders, second place team in the circuit, monopolized high team honors with 1114 for high game and 3097 for high series.

Last night the Round-Up champions scored a three-game victory over the Coss dairy team with Moerschbaeher counting 525 to lead the winners and Klein rolling 512 for the losers.

Cahill's upped their final standings one rung in the ladder by winning three games from the Candy Box in the noisiest match of the evening with most of the yelling coming from the Electrics' bench. Gehant counted 537 to lead the winners and Bondi rolled 538 for the losers.

The Dixon Telegraph won two games from the National Tea. Leading the winners was Ed Uebel with a 491 series and Court-right paced the losers with 496.

Sparky's Fenders ended the season with a two-game victory over the Reynolds wire team. Leading the winners was Vener with a 513 series and Cy Winebrenner rolled 539 for the losers.

High games last night included those of: Rubrick 219; Noakes 210; Cy Winebrenner 208-212.

Pilot Mack Likes Present Slambang Type of Baseball

By RUSS NEWLAND

San Francisco, March 28—(AP)—Lean, likeable Connie Mack, ageless enthusiast of baseball, prefers the present slambang, home-run type of game to the old 1-0 airtight model; favors universal adoption of protective helmets for batters, and thinks the late Christy Mathewson was the greatest pitcher ever to turn a fishy stare on a hitter.

His remarkable career spans the sport from its roisterous, boisterous iron-man days to the 1941 version but after some 60 years of active participation he is "still learning."

Base hit and runs, the more the merrier, provide more thrills for Mack than the early-day battles he fought when a lone run loomed bigger than the grandstand if self.

Likes Beanball Helmets

The 78-year-old survivor of the "knock 'em down, drag 'em out" game of baseball is in sympathy with the move to equip all batters with beanball helmets. His Philadelphia Athletics, engaged in exhibition games here, will wear the skullpiece when a suitable model is devised.

"The man who invents a helmet that insures absolute protection will make a fortune," Mack said. Mathewson heads Mack's honor roll for pitchers because "Matty had perfect temperament. He had a good fast ball, marvelous curve and perfect control. He really knew how to pitch."

"Mathewson never failed in important games. That's why I pick him as the greatest pitcher of all."

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, March 28—(The Special News Service)—Here's the season's first no-hitter, boys—Bennett Jaynes, elbowing for the Morganton (N. C.) Highs, beat Forest City, 2-0... Education pays, all right, but which kind? Dana X. Bible, Texas U's $15,600-a-year football coach, gets $100 more per than the coltish president... Mike Jacobs, who will shift his fight broadcasts from the hat to the razor maker for $150,000 a year, must return a $15,000 advance he received from the latter and N. B. C.

Today's Guest Star

Jack Singer, N. Y., Journal-American: "Bill Terry, who acts like he wrote the song hit, 'I'll Never Smile Again,' could stand a blood transfusion from the gay and clowning Gabby Hartnett who is the life of the Giant party!"

The Sports Whirl

Bill Zuber, Cleveland pitcher, holds the dubious distinction of being the loudest snorer in the majors... Mike Jacobs has Lou Nova signed and sealed for a Joe Louis bout if Lou repeats over Max Baer next week... Joe Coveskie, nephew of Harry and Stanley, former big league pitching greats, has signed with St. Joseph in the Michigan State league.

"Out of the Night"

Domingo Valin, who was stiffened by Pat Comiskey in less than a round in Miami, is back in his training quarters at Delano's bar and turnverein in Hayward, Cal. He explains it thusly... "I wasn't in the best of condition... I must have been overtrained or something... that Florida beer is awful!"

Spirit of the Press

Youngstown Vindicator: Joe Louis has fathomed every style of fighting now except the T formation... New York PM. Bill McKechine is as conservative as the stripe in J. P. Morgan's trousers... Peoria Journal-Transcript: Baseball players make the magnates sweat in the winter and the magnates make the players sweat in the summer. Fifty-fifty... Washington Post: Tom Yawkey sent Moose Grove a signed contract and told Grove to fill in his own figures. If Detroit ever sends a similar one to Buck Newsom, Babe Ruth's record $80,000 salary would no longer be a record.

Them Wimmen!

A woman fan called Briggs stadium and asked for seats to all Detroit home games "Between first and second"... Told that would put her smack on the playing field, she came back: "Don't kid me, brother... I had those seats last year!"

We Can't Wait

If you enjoy Prof. Sam Taub's fight broadcasts as much as we do, just wait till Sam has to describe the meeting between young Terry and Terry Young. Friends, you ain't heard nothing yet.

AP Scribe Picks Dodgers to Take League Pennant

By GAYLE TALBOT

Tampa, Fla., March 28—(AP)—The really smart move at this point would be to take a run-out powder on the National League, pleading illness from overwork and pointing out that the Bill of Rights as good as says that no man can be forced to make a fool of himself.

Either that, or take the easy way and pick the Cincinnati Reds to win their third straight pennant behind one of the finest pitching staffs ever assembled.

But this observer either is made of sterner stuff or has become slightly addled by the sun and, besides, he distinctly thought he saw a vision last night. If it weren't a genuine crystal ball he was gazing into at the time, it at least was a better grade of crystalware.

Yankee Stadium (in this far-fetched futurama) was packed to its rafters for an entire World Series, shattering every known baseball attendance record and demoralizing the subway service of the nation's greatest city.

What a Vision!

What a vision! What a double vision, in fact; it could mean only one thing, folks. Those Brooklyn Dodgers, those flatbush fullillers, had won their first flag in 21 years. They had agreed to play all the series games in the Yankee Stadium (oh, yes, the Yanks won out in the American League yesterday) because of the limited capacity of Ebbets Field.

The dream, unfortunately, didn't disclose how the Dodgers got there. It made no attempt to explain what happened to Cincinnati's great pitching staff or how the dangerous St. Louis Cardinals were beaten off. But those are details that Manager Leo Durocher will have to attend to, himself. This observer can't do everything.

One possible clue to what happened to the Cincinnati pitchers lies in the very fact that the Reds won a record total of 43 games by a single run last season. That means that Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer and the others were under a terrific strain in nearly every game they pitched.

Something Certain to Snap

Such a strain, if continued indefinitely, is bound to take its toll. Something is certain to snap eventually. And there is no reason to believe that the champions will have any more punch this season than they did last. Catcher Ernie Lombardi, whose bat has won many a game in the past two years, still is forced to swing gingerly because of his weak ankle. Eddie Joost, the club's new first-string shortstop, does not hit the long ball that Billy Myers did the past two seasons.

Brooklyn is ready to go, stronger at several spots than it was a year ago and brimming with confidence. Joe Medwick is hitting as of yore and young Pete Reiser looks like a sensation in center-field. Pee-wee Reese is one of the game's greatest shortstops already.

The Dodgers like 14 other big league clubs do not have the pitching possessed by Cincinnati. But any outfit that has a pair like Kirby Higbe and Whit Wyatt to carry the load will get along.

Anyhow, a man can do it, can't he?

American automobile paid about $1,850,000,000 vehicle taxes during 1940.

Pressure Is On in Two Billiards Tourneys Here

They'll be ripping up the green cloth to heat out the fire at James Billiards one of these days if the heat continues to be on in the current three-cushion billiards tournaments which has the guys chalking their cues with new determination.

In one tournament at the end of the 11th round there are five men setting the pace with eight wins and three defeats each. These include Charles Lloyd, Elwyn Glessner, J. Fred Hofmann, Carl Hasselberg and Ed Uebel. Wilson Dysart still holds high run with seven points but Ed Uebel has taken over high game with 38.

Paul Koepke is still undefeated with seven wins at the end of the seventh round in the other tournament but close on his heels are Lowell Whitehead, Walter Trautman, Ray Huggins, Red Ioder and Horace Hartman. The latter and Koepke are tied for high run with five each and Frank Daschbach, Jr. holds high game with 22.

Valuable Historic Papers Found in Files of Auditor

Include Pay Checks Issued to Lincoln and Other Notables

Springfield, Ill., March 28 — (AP)—Abraham Lincoln's pay checks for services as an Illinois legislator have been found among yellowed, century-old statehouse files and will be turned over to the State Historical Library, State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder said today.

The old salary warrants endorsed by "A Lincoln", vouchers for funds paid to Stephen A. Douglas and other documents of historical value were found among some 10,000,000 cancelled warrants being moved from the vaults of the state auditor's office to storage rooms in the Archives building.

According to Harry E. Pratt, executive secretary of the Abraham Lincoln Association, a study of the warrants discloses that Lincoln drew his $4 a day salary even on days when he was absent from sessions of the legislature, although the law specifically stated that payment should be governed by attendance.

In his four terms in the general assembly, Lincoln drew 16 warrants, totaling $1,950, in salary and expenses. He served in the house from 1834 to 1841.

The signatures of practically every person of any importance in Illinois politics are inscribed on the yellowing documents, which were fumigated and dusted before being permanently stored in the Archives building.

One receipt for $200 in legal fees is signed by Stephen A. Douglas in right of way litigation in Morgan county for a railroad.

Lincoln's last warrant received for legislative service was signed by Auditor James Shields, who later challenged Lincoln to a duel — which never materialized.

Another Lincoln document is a receipt for $50 received for "professional services rendered the Board of Public Works".

The first official auditor's records discovered in the statehouse vaults were those of E. J. Berry, who was appointed in 1817 by territorial Governor Ninian Edwards. Berry wasn't as busy as the present day auditor for one of the 1820 notations was: "To amount received in the treasury during the month of February — 00.00."

"By amount paid out during said month—00.00".

Most of Illinois Radio Stations on New Frequencies

Chicago, March 28.—(AP)—Illinois radio stations, together with hundreds of others in the United States, are changing their addresses tomorrow.

Not their physical address, but the places on which they may be found on the radio dials.

Stations WIND, WMAQ and WGN in Chicago, and WILL in Urbana will maintain their present frequencies, but all other stations in the state will move to different kilocycles on the dial.

The changes are being made in conformity with the North American regional broadcasting agreement, an international treaty signed several years ago to arrange wave lengths so that there won't be as much interference and overlapping as before.

For persons with dial tuning sets, the new wave lengths will have to be memorized. Those with push button sets will have to make the frequency adjustments.

Seventeenth Anniversary

Bethel United Evangelical church will observe the seventeenth anniversary of the dedication of the present church building at North Galena and Morgan streets, with appropriate services next Sunday. The pastor, Rev. R. S. Wilson, has planned special messages for the day. In the evening the Rupert Nelson Musical Trio from the Swedish Free church of Rockford, is to be present and sing, as well as provide instrumental music. This trio is regularly heard over the Rockford radio station. The anniversary services are open to the public. The charter membership of 76 when the church was organized in 1923 will be read at the morning service, and an effort is being made to have many of the charter members still living be present. Former members and friends are also expected, and the service should be somewhat like a homecoming service.

A committee from the Truth Seekers class is preparing a special display of pictures and souvenirs of the history of the church, which will be on display for the day. Mrs. Carl Hess is in charge of this.

The offerings for the day, from the Sunday school, and morning and evening services will be given to the trustees for needed improvements on the church and parsonage.

Bethel United Evangelical church was organized May 3, 1923 by Rev. C. G. Unangst, formerly pastor in Dixon. At first the congregation met in homes of the members and then for a number of months in a funeral home. The lot where the church is located was purchased and construction started on the church building, the corner stone being laid on December 9, 1923. On Sunday, March 30, 1924 the church was dedicated by the late Bishop W. F. Heil of Allentown, Pa. Since that time the work of the congregation has gone forward. In 1937 the debt on the church property was paid, and a year later the house east of the church on Morgan street was purchased for a parsonage. The debt on this parsonage is being gradually reduced. The congregation at present reports a membership of 230, and a Sunday school enrollment of 250.

The local congregation is independently owned, but is connected with the Western Conference of the Evangelical Congregational church. The congregation and denomination with which they are connected holds to the principles which controlled the United Evangelical denomination in this country from 1894 to 1922, when many of the United Evangelical congregations merged with the Evangelical Association to form the Evangelical Congregational church. The finances are raised entirely by free will offerings, and no bazaars, suppers for the raising of money or other financial schemes are practiced by the church.

The church has been served by two student pastors, and three resident pastors, not counting the present pastor who was appointed here last August. Rev. Lloyd Erb served from May, 1923 to May, 1924; the Rev. A. C. Bodey served from May 1924 to July, 1925, both as students. S. B. Quincer became the pastor in November, 1925, continuing until 1929. Rev. Paul D. Gordon served two pastorate, the first from January 1930 to September, 1933, and the second from September 1935 to September, 1940. Rev. H. W. Lambert served a two year pastorate from September, 1933 to 1935. Rev. R. S. Wilson is the present pastor.

The present official board of the church consists of J. A. Myers, Joseph Jeanguenot, William Greig, Fred Hoffman, J. U. Weyant, trustees; Richard Weyant, Oscar Cramer, LeRoy Gaul, Louis Ziegler and Frank Forman—stewards; Scovel Walker, superintendent of the Sunday school, William Foster and Frank Norvell, class leaders.

Workman Dangles From Sign Above Chicago Station for 10 Minutes

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—Ten minutes passed with the measured tread of a lifetime for Fred Bunnell Thursday.

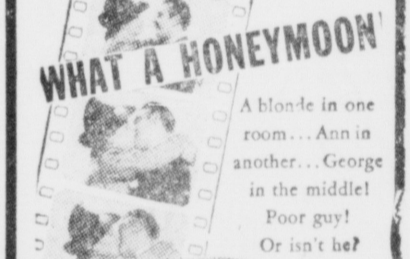

He spent the period, dangling 225 feet in the air from a huge electric sign above the Illinois Central railroad yards at Randolph street.

Bunnell, a 33-year-old electrician, fell out of a boatman's chair as he was measuring the face of the sign. A single rope twisted in a safety hitch around his right leg, held him swinging in the wind while fellow workmen hurried to his rescue.

As they pulled him in a crowd of thousands below set up a cheer.
